

SARAH HARRIS

TV HOST & PRESENTER

As Co-Host of Network Ten's The Project, it takes a special mix of sass and smarts to wrangle co-hosts, media heavyweights and celebrity guests in front of a live audience every day but Sarah has both in spades.

Not least because this accomplished broadcaster has spent more than a decade on the road as a reporter covering some of the biggest stories around the world.

Away from the news world, Sarah hosted four seasons of 10's Shark Tank, where aspiring entrepreneurs pitch their money-making ideas to Australia's most successful business people.

Sarah has also fronted various holiday specials for the network, including both Easter with The Australian Women's Weekly and last year's Christmas with The Australian Woman's Weekly.

Sarah can also be seen on 10's other programs including The Sunday Project, Hughesy, We Have A Problem and Have You Been Paying Attention?.

Sydney-born and Queensland-raised, the TV Week Logie nominated presenter is also the national ambassador for The Smith Family and proud mother to Paul and Harry.

@SarahHarris

@whatsarahsnapped